Miss Sarah Leverette, Librarian
Law School Library
University of South Carolina
Columbia, S. C.

Dear Miss Leverette:

Your letter of March 11 has just come in. I think Friday, March 31, will be fine. I have decided to have the meeting in my home. If it is easy for you to get here by lunch time, as you did in Raleigh last fall, I suggest that you go on and schedule the meeting, saying that we will have lunch at the Carolina Inn Cafeteria and will have the meeting at my house - 700 Gingham Road, Chapel Hill - at an early hour in the afternoon of that day. You set all the hours. We can all meet at the Cafeteria at the hour that is convenient for you.

I am disappointed that Mrs. Moody cannot come, but if she can come next fall that will be fine. It is good news that Mrs. Emma Motte, of the Supreme Court Library, will join us. If she and her husband will come with you, then we can all make our plans here to suit your group. Again, let me say that I am looking forward to having you and Jean stay with me on the night of the 31st.

I would like to reiterate, answering your questions categorically:

1. Gathering Place - At the Carolina Inn Cafeteria at the hour that suits your group.
2. Meeting Place - At my house. I designate my house because our Law School is so crowded and there is so much noise from the banging of the builders that we cannot hear anything.
3. Hour of the Meeting - At the time that suits your group.
4. You get out all notices, indicating the schedule as outlined above and stating the subject of the meeting.

With all good wishes for you and Jean, I am

Sincerely yours,

Lucile Elliott

Duland:

Sarah asked me to suggest a topic for the meeting. I suggested "Plans for the future". You suggest some topics to her. Hope you can come to meeting. Can't you bring June? Harker - S.M.D.
